MILLIONAIRE'S SON FOUND GUILTY

OF MURDERING DON. R. MELLET EDITOR CANTON DAILY NEWS

The Verdict Is Considered a Virtual Defeat For the Prosecution As Its Counsel Had Argued Strongly For the Electrical Chair—Second Degree Verdict Gives Ben Rudner Hope of Eventual Pardon or Parole.

"Guilty of second degree murder." That was the verdict returned at 8:18 o'clock Wednesday night by a jury of seven women and five men against Ben Rudner, Massillon hardware dealer, son of a millionaire Canton junk dealer, and charged with the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

The verdict carries with it a sentence of life imprisonment in Ohio penitentiary. Rudner smiled as the verdict was read. His lawyers immediately asked for a new trial.

The jury had been deliberating behind closed doors since 10:10 Wednesday morning, while every deputy sheriff in Stark county and the night shift of the Canton police force were on duty at the court house, after warning of a possible attempt to shoot Rudner's way to freedom, in the event that the jury found him to be guilty of first degree murder without recommendation for mercy.

The jury notified the bailiff that it had reached its verdict shortly after 8 o'clock, a half hour after it had gone back to its deliberations after a two-hour recess for dinner. Judge A. A. Agler, Prosecutor Henry W. Harter Jr., and Special Prosecutor B. B. McClintock, of state's counsel; George Gordon Battle, New York lawyer, and E. L. Mills, of Canton, members of defense counsel; court attaches, the defendant and his relatives were summoned to the court room to hear the verdict.

The verdict was a virtual defeat for the prosecution as its counsel had argued strongly for the electric chair. By the second degree verdict Rudner has hope of eventual pardon or parole. A first degree verdict, even with a recommendation for mercy, would have been without hope of pardon or parole.

Rudner went on trial before Judge A. W. Agler nearly three weeks ago after stubborn efforts by his attorneys had failed to secure either a change of venue or a postponement of the case.

The trial was the outgrowth of a long series of editorial attacks in the Canton Daily News against vice conditions in Canton, climaxing in the slaying of Mellett the night of July 16. Mellett previously had been warned that a conspiracy existed against his life. Witness in the trial told how he and his little family sat in a darkened house all of one night, Mellett heavily armed, awaiting an expected attack of the crime world.

The night of the killing Mellett his wife and a neighbor couple had been to a dance. They returned home before midnight and Mrs. Mellett was preparing a midnight lunch while her husband put the automobile in the garage.

Her efforts were interrupted by revolver shots. One shot grazed her head. She rushed into the yard to find her husband dead.

In the investigation which continued stubbornly for weeks Pat McDermott, new serving a life term for the murder, became the "key-man" hunter nationwide.

Steve Kascholk, a boy friend of McDermott told authorities that he and Pat had visited Rudner in Massillon and had been hired to kill the crusading editor. Kascholk however refused to go ahead with the plot.

Detectives efforts were rewarded after long weeks when a brother surrendered McDermott at his home in Nanty Glo, Pennsylvania, but the youthful red-head refused to give information.

He was convicted of the killing Christmas Eve.

In the trial which closed Wednesday Rudner was accused of being the "pay-off" man in the conspiracy, the man who hired and paid the murderers and directed their efforts. Louis Mazer was his helper the state contends.

Kascholk again told his story of the birth of the conspiracy. Other witnesses were called in substantiation and to break down the alibi which Rudner attempted to establish thru a score of witnesses who testified to his movements the night of the Mellett murder.

Rudner, like McDermott contended he was the victim of a "frame-up" to satisfy the public demand for a victim.

A DEVOTE TO THEOSOPHY KILLS SELF

Man Nationally Prominent in Republican Politics a Suicide.

The ink of his final words of love and guidance for his young bride hardly dry, George F. Porter, 45 wealthy society man, nationally prominent in Republican politics, Chicago, ended his life Wednesday with a bullet thru his head.

At the moment Mrs. Porter, the former Mima de Manziarley, waited for him at his downtown office ready to join him at noon for a trip to New York, whence they were to sail for London.

For approximately for years Porter suffered from a complication of ills.

"Never blame yourself," he wrote to his wife. "This fate was on me—the inevitable conclusion of a twisted life. Here I write and plan and the revolver has been ready for weeks, after our joyful morning."

"I want your happiness—if this is in theosophy, all right—but be sure you really believe and that you are not just accepting inheritance—personal devotion and affection for Krishna—and doing the easiest thing," he penned.

He advised her to "go slow on theosophy."

Mrs. Porter, member of an aristocratic Russian family, was married in India June 5, 1925. They met when she visited Chicago while a coed at the University of Wisconsin.

"I love you; I die because I cannot live," he wrote in finality.

Other notes instructed that all notes and indebtedness made for friendship be canceled and termed his self destruction "a coward's act, or the bravest act of my life."

Russia to Send Moslems on Pilgrimage to Mecca

Odessa.—Although the soviet government is avowedly atheistic, the authorities have decided to facilitate pilgrimages of devout Mussulman residents of Russia to Mecca, Jeddah and other holy places. The move is intended frankly as a measure to win the favor of this section of the population, which numbers about 15,000,000. The first group of pilgrims will sail early in March, and provision has been made to transport 1,000 monthly.

COMINGS BILL PROTECT USERS OF UTILITIES

Cannot Collect Increased
Rates Until Commission Decides.

Over riding the objections of the Ohio Bell Telephone company attorneys, testimony was admitted in the state-wide rate hearing before the public utilities commission in Columbus showing the financing of the constituent units of the old Ohio State Telephone company, absorbed by the Bell company in September, 1921.

The book value of the Ohio State company at that time was $28,783,321 which was taken as the basis of valuation for the merger. Attorneys for the state contended this valuation was still carried on the books of the Bell company and that efforts were being made to reduce it, in order to secure a lower value for the Bell properties on which a fair rate of return should be made.

Smith W. Bennett, attorney representing Cleveland utilities said the senate did enough to the utilities when its taxation committee voted to increase their excise tax from 1.2 percent to 1.3 per cent, without passing any bill to change the present law on rates.

Freeman T. Eagleson, attorney for the Logan Gas company said his company had kept faith with customers by repaying with interest, overcharges it had made under the present system of rate collections.

The Comings bill, which would prohibit utilities increasing rates until finally determined by the commission was the matter of debate in the hearing.

Eagleson pointed out that the bill would require the commission to pass upon cases within a year, and that his company's rate case had been there for a longer time than that without action, due to delays on the part of the city solicitors opposing it.

There was an end in sight for the Logan gas case, he said, and issues of common stock amounting to $11,323,500.

Taylor also said the real value of the construction work was represented by the bond issue and left the impression that the issue of stock was wholly "watered."

Improper systems in the early days of telephone operation, Taylor said, are responsible for inclusion in the book value of the company, considerable property that was non-existent and should have been charged off. This, he said, should further reduce the book value.

Bell attorneys made a blanket objection to all of Taylor's testimony, but the commission ruled it should be admitted for what it was worth. The commission intimated that it could be rejected later if the state was unable to show the effect of the financing on the book value of the companies.

Turney Shellhammer, of Ringgold, appeared before Mayor Fitzpatrick Wednesday after he heard he was wanted for selling liquor and was given a fine of $300 and costs. Being unable to pay, he was placed in the county jail.

MULES ROLL STRANGELY ON SLAIN MAN'S GRAVE

Oshkosh, Neb., Feb. 22.—A pair of mules insisted on rolling over the barn yard grave of his uncle, Frank Boyer, comprised the "only thing" that caused him to worry, Henry Boyer said in his cell today. The elder Boyer was shot and killed on his ranch in 1913 and his skeleton was recovered Saturday.

"It got my goat like nothing has since," Henry added. "I always had trouble getting them from the place."

Boyer is being held with Mrs. Frank Boyer, his common law wife, in connection with the death of the uncle whose bones were disinterred from his 14-year-old grave after 36 hours of digging on the Boyer ranch by a posse.

County Attorney Dutton plans to charge them with being accessory to a murder both before and after the fact, as both declared that the slaying was done by Henry's brother, Thomas, who is dead.

Lesson for February 27

MAKING THE COMMUNITY CHRISTIAN

Temperance Lesson.

LESSON TEXT—Gal. 5:13-25.
GOLDEN TEXT—Have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather prove them.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Serving One Another by Love.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Law of Love.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Self-Control for the Sake of Others.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Works of Darkness and Works of Light.

The only way this can be called a way of making the world Christian is by leading the individuals to a personal knowledge and experience of Jesus Christ and entering therefore into the power of the new life. Having shown in chapters 3 and 4 of this epistle that the believer is free from the law as a means of justification, Paul makes practical application of this doctrine. The divine way of making the community Christian is to secure the regeneration of the individual. The way to destroy the work of the devil is through the sonship of believers.

1. Christian Freedom (vv. 13-15).
1. It is not an occasion to the "flesh" (v. 13).

Liberty is not license. The notion that when one is free from the law, that he is free from constraint, is wickedly erroneous. License of the flesh means not merely the indulgence of the flesh in actual material sins, but in the expression of a self-centered life in biting and devouring one another (v. 15).

2. By love serving one another (v. 13).

Freedom from the Mosaic law means slavery to the law of love.

The emerging from bondage through Christ is the passing into a sphere of life in which all the powers should act under the dominion of the true motive, love—Morgan. Love thus becomes the fulfillment of the law.

11. Walking in the Spirit (vv. 16-18).

This discloses the secret of how a life of service to another can be lived. The governing principle in the life of a believer is the Holy Spirit. Walking in the Spirit results in:

1. Loving service to others.

2. Victory over the flesh (vv. 16, 17).

By the flesh is meant the corrupt nature of man expressing itself in the realm of sense and self. The renewed man is two men between which is going on a mortal conflict. The Christian must choose between good and evil. When he chooses the evil, the Holy Spirit opposes, and when he chooses the good the flesh opposes. Notwithstanding this deadly conflict, victory is sure.

111. The Works of the Flesh (vv. 19-21).

By works of the flesh is meant the operation of the carnal nature. The one who chooses to live according to the impulse and desires of his natural heart will be practicing the following sins:

1. Sensuality (v. 19).

2. Irreligion (v. 20).

These acts take place in the realm of the spirit and are:

(1) Idolatry, which means the worshiping of idols.

(2) Witchcraft or sorcery. This means all dealing with the occult.

3. Sins of temper (vv. 20, 21).

These take place in the sphere of the mind and are:

(1) Hatred. (2) Variance, which means strife and contention. (3) Emulations, jealousy. (4) Wrath, bursts of passion. (5) Seditions, factions in the state. (6) Heresies, factions in the church. (7) Envyings.

(8) Murders.

4. Sins of excess (v. 21).

(1) Drunkenness. This means indulgence in intoxicating liquors.

(2) Revellings, acts of dissipation under the influence of intoxicants. Those who practice such sins shall be excluded from the kingdom of God.

IV. The Fruit of the Spirit (vv. 22-24).

This indicates action in the realm of life. The product of the Holy Spirit indwelling the believer.

(1) Love to God and man. (2) Joy, glad-heartedness because of what God has done. (3) Peace with God and fellowman. (4) Long-suffering, taking insult and injury without murmuring. (5) Gentleness, kindness to others. (6) Goodness, doing good to others. (7) Faith, believes God and commits all to Him. (8) Meekness, submission to God. (9) Temperance, self-control in all things. Against such there is no law.

Underrating Value

Oh, do we not too frequently underrate the value of the promises of God? They were made to us and we should trust them, for they are as true as the God by Whom they were made.—Echoes.

Exceedingly Difficult

It is exceedingly difficult for one's heart to bow and say, "I will be nothing but a lamb," but that is our place, for the Lord says, "Vengeance is mine."—Echoes.

BLACK MOUNTAIN

Was a Poor Investment For Chesapeake & Hocking R.
R. Company.

The Chesapeake & Hocking Railway Co. made a poor investment in the purchase of Black Mountain on the Miller farm south of the city.

When the Company opened the mountain with the expectation of finding excellent gravel and sand they found neither.

The ridge has some gravel and the sand is in spiral pockets but not enough of either to make it worth while for concrete work hence the mountain is being used for making the fill on the low ground on the Miller farm. Some people thought there might be Indian or Mound Builders' relics in the mountain but nothing of that character has been unearthed as yet.

The Dominion Construction Co. has found quick-sand in Scippo and Blackwater creeks which has caused considerable expense in steel cribbing.

HALTERMAN TESTIFIES IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Washington C. H., Feb. 22.—Alleged brutal treatment he suffered at the hands of his half brother, Charles Halterman, for whose murder he is being tried, was detailed in court today by Leo Halterman.

Under guidance of his counsel the defendant related at length his life story, telling the jury that while he worked for his half brother he was repeatedly attacked and knocked down by Charles.

Halterman declared that his half brother had frequently told him he was unfit to raise his twin sons who lived at the Charles Halterman home, that he prevented Leo from being with the boys as much as he desired and endeavored to win the affections of the twins away from the defendant.

2 SLAIN, 3 ARE WOUNDED BY FRENZIED FARMER

Maddened Slayer Flees When Gun Jams; Two Brothers Among Those Injured.

Fremont, Neb., Feb. 22.—Suddenly confronting a group of farmers as they were shelling corn on the Ola Anderson farm, Frank Marsh, 24, today shot and killed two, wounded three, including his two brothers, tossed away his gun when it jammed and fled. Relatives say he has been lacking in mental balance for many years.

Tonight posses, composed of farmers and sheriffs, aided by Omaha police, equipped with rifles and tear bombs, combed the countryside in an effort to capture the maddened slayer. So far no trace has been found.

The dead: Ola Anderson, 50, pioneer farmer. Ange Nelson, 17, Anderson's hired man. The wounded: Vernon Johnson, 30, son-in-law of Anderson. Fred Fred Marsh, 50, and Adolph Marsh, 37, brothers of the slayer. Johnson is believed to be the most seriously wounded.

The maddened brother, who had been left at the Marsh home, is believed to have resented the fact that his brothers were aiding Anderson in his corn shelling.

As the men were working, Frank appeared near the Anderson house and, without warning, opened fire. The brothers ran through the hail of shot and attempted to wrest the gun from his hands, but he beat them off. When the gun jammed, he ran in the direction of his farm.

Mrs. Vernon Johnson, daughter of Ola Anderson, said Marsh, although eccentric, had been considered harmless.

EDUCATION AND ADVENTURE FREE

Washington, Feb. 22.—Ohio youths who yearn for adventure afloat and ashore may get it as well as an education at government expense by entering the United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. Congressman Speaks, Columbus, has been notified by Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard that competitive examinations for the appointment of cadets at the academy will be held June 20 to 25, next.

Those successfully passing these examinations and qualifying as to age and character will be ordered to report at the academy on September 1 to begin their three-year course. Graduates of the academy are eligible for commissions as ensigns in the United States coast guard and will be assigned to active duty.

The age limit for appointment of cadets are 19 and 22 years. While taking their academy course cadets are allowed $780 a year and one ration per day amounting to 80 cents. Each summer cadets take an extended ocean practice cruise.

Better Than Farce

The commercial traveler found himself stranded in a manufacturing town in Lancashire and decided to visit the local music hall. He found the place closed, however.

On the way home he happened to pass a large hall whence issued roar after roar of hilarious laughter. He walked up to the entrance and inquired of the doorkeeper what was taking place.

"Amateur dramatic society, sir," explained the doorman.

"Ah," said the other, as there came another burst of laughter, "doing a comedy, eh?"

"No, sir," came the grim retort, "they're doing 'Macbeth!'"—London Answers.

Record Growing Period

The year 1926 will be recorded by nature as the greatest growing period for a century or more. Foresters have just found that the annual ring of growth made by the forest trees on the Pacific coast during the 12 months of 1926 is twice the width of former years in recent history.

Unusually mild weather, plentiful rainfall and very little wind proved beneficial to forest growth. Recent examination of new growth rings is amazing, report loggers and student foresters. It is possible in the study of ring growth to discover whether former years were cold or warm. In connection with thin or wide expansion of the tree trunks.

There are three kinds of people.

One kind always expect something to turn up, but never do anything to help turn up something.

The second kind—who expect too much all at once. Like the child who planted some garden seeds one day, waited a couple of days and then impatiently dug them up to see what had become of them.

The third are those who have learned to be both patient waiters and hard workers—who know, that in order to realize ambition and fulfill hopes, that they must remember the best, forget the rest and work with others.

We need a lot of this third class of people.

The Circleville Chamber of Commerce invites you to join the citizens banded together, whose aim is to make the most of local conditions, advantages and resources for the mutual betterment of every citizen who works here, lives here, raises a family here.

It costs only three cents a day to become a member, and the more energy and enthusiasm you have to help put over a program—the better.

A town can't progress without a Chamber of Commerce and a Chamber of Commerce can't accomplish anything without real men.

TO FEMININE TYPEAlthough Mrs. Elsie Redfern was an ardent worker in the cause of women's suffrage, she is entirely out of sympathy with the masculine trend of the modern girl. Indeed, she advocates drastic methods to win back the vogue of longer hair and longer skirts.
"More people should employ the Joe Brown method," she states."I never see Brown's wife in knick-ers any more," commented the next-door neighbor, "and my wife says she never meets her in the barber shop these days, either. I wonder what's happened?""She's reverted to the feminine type, explained the girl across the fence. "Mr. Brown is pretty bullheaded and he told her that if she was going to be a man she was going to change the tires, earn the money for the gas and take care of the furnace in winter."—Los Angeles Times.Writers of Note Did made in Columbus tonight at the Neil thruout the Presbytery are expected to attend.While there is little definite information at headquarters concerning pledges obtained since the first meeting last Thursday, it is believed that tonight's meeting will be even more enthusiastic than the first one.The little church at Mifflin, so small that it has a quota of only $156 has set an inspirational example for the larger churches. M. H. Fulton, its campaign chairman, telephoned that in a short time last Sunday its workers obtained five pledges for $50 each and were "just starting.""That," said Charles J. Ricker, acting chairman for the Presbytery, "is the kind of work we need. Hard work will get our quota, but we now are in the last lap and every ounce of strength must be used. We urge every church committee to redouble its efforts these last few days and esto light an important fact. He atwesterners with a fondness for health foods it must be quite acceptable.

Eels are surely full of vitamins, and even if they are not, the civilization that fell for Metchnikoff's sour but-ish in an eel-rice dietary.Surgical MoviesMotion pictures of surgical opera-

The Four Things That Matter.
There are four qualities we look for in a motor oil:
1. It must give perfect lubrication.
2. It must leave the engine in clean condition.
3. It must be economical to use.
4. It must be free from impurities that damage the engine.
On these four counts we have chosen Sinclair Opaline Motor Oils and recommend them to our customers.

SHIP RAMMED AND GOES DOWN CHESAPEAKE BAY
Passengers and Crew Saved by Sister Ship, City of Baltimore.

A Chesapeake steamship line river boat was rammed and sunk by a sister ship of the same at the mouth of the Potomac river early Thursday, reports to the liner's headquarters at Baltimore said.
The surviving ship rescued the crew of the other vessel.
The sunken ship was bound from Richmond to Baltimore. No details were given in early reports.
The passengers were reported taken by the city of Richmond and probably will be landed either at Norfolk or at West Point, the Richmond terminal of the line.
One report said the city of Richmond rammed the other vessel.
The navy messages gave the location of the collision as a mile from Smith's Point, near Annapolis. Other reports placed it further down Chesapeake Bay, near the mouth of the Potomac river.
Coast guard headquarters at 8 a. m. had not been advised of the accident except by United States reports.

THE LIVESTOCK COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION
W. H. Skinner of New Holland Represented This County at State Meeting.

William H. Skinner of New Holland represented Pickaway county at the annual meeting of the Ohio Livestock Cooperative association at Columbus, Monday and Tuesday, February 21 and 22. The meeting was attended by more than 200 livestock producers from 50 Ohio counties.
Reports made at the meeting showed that the value of livestock marketed cooperatively in Ohio during 1926 increased $1,720,724.71 over 1925 with a total for the year of $15,682,161.48 sold by cooperatives. Expense of marketing was decreased from 56.9 cents a hundred on the average for 1925, to 52.5 cents for 1926.
Growth of direct to packer marketing from country points and a large increase in the amount of feeder livestock distributed to farmers of the state were two points of progress stressed by leaders of the association in their report. During 1926, 22 of every 100 hogs marketed cooperatively were sold directly to the packing plant without going thru a terminal market as compared to 14 of every 100 during 1925.
Directors elected for the coming years are F. G. Lyle, Highland county; Irwin Porteus, Coshocton county; E. C. Rector, Pickaway county; B. B. Brumley, Hancock county; A. T. Moser, Wyandot county; L. D. Mussel, Logan county, and E. C. Darling, Coshocton county.
The last afternoon session was a joint meeting with delegates in Columbus for the annual meeting of the Ohio Wool Growers' Cooperative association. These two groups banqueted together Tuesday night.

AMUSEMENTS

"Mantrap" which opened at the Met theater last night brings to the screen both the dramatic power and trenchant humor of Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street" and "Babbitt" and is as fine entertainment as anything that's been seen here in some time.
The story for the most part has an outdoor setting, the Canadian woods in summer, and is beautifully photographed.

Clara Bow, as the flapper manicurist from Minneapolis, whose sudden love whim has resulted in changing her city environment for that of the Canadian woods, but whose instincts are the same whether in the city or at "Mantrap Landing," plays a part that fits her perfectly. Miss Bow's work is brilliant thruout the picture.

Ernest Torrence Superb.
Ernest Torrence, in the role of "Joe Easter, trader and trapper of the North Woods, gives a performance which is great both in dramatic strength and in that delightful, whimsical humor for which he is famous. It is the best role Torrence has had in many months and he has made the most of it. "Mantrap" should win him plenty of enthusiastic new friends.

Percy Marmont is splendid. As the tired New York bachelor lawyer who wants to get away from women who come to him, seeking fashionable divorces and appealing for sympathy, he is mighty convincing. Of course, he doesn't find the solitude and rest that he expects. Instead, he meets Clara Bow and is drawn into a gripping situation.

The spirit of the author's novel has been admirably maintained by Director Victor Fleming.

Forest Fire a Feature.
An episode rich in humor and satire is Eugene Pallette's characterization of "Woodbury" the wealthy "Babbitt" manufacturer of Twinkle-Toe Hosiery, who is a know-it-all camper loud, noisy, vulgar and a thoro pest. Sinclair Lewis could not resist taking one of his pet characters to the north woods. The result is a riot. Spectacular forest fire scenes are a feature of the picture.

"Mantrap" from every point of view is ideal entertainment. It is splendidly acted and directed with all the consummate skill which Victor Fleming exhibited in such successes as "The Blind Goddess," "Lord Jim" "Adventure" and "The Devil's Cargo." Adelaide Heilbron prepared the screen adaptation.

Famous Poems ... Emmitt Goodman
Critics Report Mr. Grice
The senior class received their pictures from Baker's studio last Thursday, February 17. Everyone was well pleased with them.

Many students were absent from school Monday on account of the deep snow. The roads were much better Tuesday and all the trucks came.

The junior class with the assistance of some of the sophomores are going to give a play in the near future entitled (Contents unknown); watch for the date.

The seniors are very busy, choosing invitations and preparing for commencement. They have at last decided on the invitation and have ordered them.

The English class has been reading Pilgrims Progress. They find it educational as well as entertaining. After they have finished reading it each will write a composition similar to Pilgrim's Progress. They promise to be very interesting.

In civil government class while discussing the probable invention of diamonds out of sea water, one student gave her version of the matter as follows: Necessity must be the mother of invention so say Florence Kerns who does not see how one man can make all the diamonds.

Where Iris Is Found
There are about 875 species of iris. They are chiefly natives of temperate climates. Iris versicolor, the large blue flag, is common in wet places throughout the United States as far west as Minnesota and Arkansas.

Found in Tobacco Leaves
Tobacco leaves when submitted to chemical analysis yield nicotine, which is its most characteristic constituent; albumin, a gluten-like substance; gum, resin, malic and citric acids, and a large amount of inorganic constituents. 100 parts of the dry leaf yielding from about 19 to 27 per cent of ash, in which potash, lime and silica predominate.

Sandalwood
Sandalwood is used in ring and handkerchief boxes, and for the sticks of fans. Its delicate fragrance has made it extremely popular among women who dislike ordinary perfumes.

Will you say it just for the day or through the years to come?

NOW comes the time of year when the telltale stethoscope finds hearts more aflutter, when pulses beat with ardency renewed.

And no wonder! For just in the offing is St. Valentine's, the day set apart by the Saint of Hearts for all true lovers . . . filial, fraternal and romantic . . . to play the roles of Romeo and Juliet, or of Darby and Joan.

In such a crisis, adolescent youth seeks an outlet for his welling emotion in a bit of lacy paper, a red heart or two, a sugary quatrain or sonnet.

But we elderly folk, of twenty and beyond, must find a more lasting and worthy expression of our sentiment.

There is no finer gift than an Elgin Watch. Featured in a wide style variety and sold at prices ranging from $15 to $1700.

Fortunately, that's not hard to do. For just 'round the corner is a jeweler, and he deals in valentines of four dimensions . . . Beauty, Utility, Permanence and Value.

Valentines wrought of gold and silver or set with a precious jewel . . . valentines not necessarily expensive yet enduring, to be admired and cherished through the years.

Tokens that link the lovely with the lasting, the precious with the practical . . . a ring . . . a pin . . . perhaps a silver vase . . . or best of all, an Elgin watch.

A gift that will serve the minutes and the hours, and survive the decades. A gift, indeed, that will "say it for a lifetime."

PRIMITIVE MANHAD TOOTHACHE
YET NO CANDY

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Indian children 300 and 900 years ago who never had a chance to eat candy had the same tooth defects that children in America of the present day have, according to Harry Edward Freund, director of the American Research Foundation, in an address here.

"Toothache was no stranger in the caves of the Cliff Dwellers," said Mr. Freund. "Chief cause of 'faults' in the teeth in the remains of Indian children discovered by explorers in New Mexico recently was lack of lime salts in the food, the principal cause of defects in modern teeth. Some remains 300 years old had well marked crevices of the kind on which modern dentists put most of the blame for tooth decay.

"Other remains dating back approximately 900 years showed molar teeth in which the faults or crevices had been worn away, apparently by the rough and coarse food that they had chewed. Candy has been wrongfully blamed for many tooth ills with which sweets have nothing to do. Candy contains nothing which has the power of penetrating the enamel of the teeth.

"One often wonders what primitive men did when they had toothache or similar ills, but it appears that they seldom suffered these modern refinements when they had proper food to build their bones and teeth. Animals and primitive men got along without tooth brushes or laxative medicines because their rough food cleaned their teeth and kept their systems active. Civilization is the parent of liver pills and bridgework in the mouth."

Your Engine Is No Exception.

As it grows older it will wear. As it wears it needs a new lubrication diagnosis. Give it an oil of more body. Sinclair provides in the line of Sinclair Opaline Motor Oils several different grades of oils to serve the various clearances and degrees of wear encountered in all engines. Why not drive in and consult the Sinclair Recommendation Index, perhaps there is a grade of Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil better for your engine than the one you are now using.

NEW INDUSTRY IN NEIGHBORING CITY

Lancaster, Feb. 23.—Increased industry for this section of Ohio is contained in the announcement just made that fibre binders for a bundled rock lath will be manufactured at the paper mill operated here by the United States Gypsum Company. For the manufacture of these binders thousands of tons of carefully selected waste paper will be drawn every year from the territories adjacent to Lancaster.

From Lancaster the finished fibre binders will be shipped to the company's mills at Grand Rapids, Michigan; Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Plasterco, Virginia, where the binders will be used for surfacing incombustible lath that is bundled by machinery and then delivered in unit form to houses and other buildings which are in process of construction.

Others of the company's paper mills which will manufacture fibre binders for this bundled rock lath are at Oakfield, New York; Gypsum, Ohio, and Kansas City, Missouri. These mills, like the mill here, draw their raw stocks from surrounding territories, and economists estimate that hundreds of thousands of dollars are annually saved the American pocketbook through the waste-utilization at these and similar mills.

The bundled rock lath now being manufactured by the United States Gypsum Company was first announced to the building trades in January of this year. At that time it was announced that the product had been perfected in its present form only after an investigation of lath and plastering conditions in 165 cities. This investigation was carried on for fourteen months, with the idea of discovering just how the builder and building trades could best be furnished an incombustible and insulating plastering base.

YOUNG BURGLAR
KILLED BY TRAP OF A GROCER

Cleveland, Feb. 22.—A shotgun trained on a window from a hidden recess in a wall killed Rudd Jackson, 24, who entered the grocery store of John Hartman last night.

His body was found on the floor today by Hartman when he opened the store. A revolver was found nearby.

Three times since Christmas the store has been looted at night, and Hartman told police he determined to set a trap. He arranged the gun so that foot pressure on a box just below the window would release the trigger.

Secret of Big Light Beam

In huge electric searchlights that cast beams visible for 50 or 60 miles on clear nights, the carbons are not like those of ordinary arc lamps. Instead, the electrodes are cored carbons containing chemicals in the cores. The main source of light is a small body of gas contained in the crater at the end of the positive electrode. This crater of gas quadruples the strength of the beam.

Nonsinking Torpedo Is

Developed by Navy

Washington.—Development of a new torpedo, which will float high and vertically if it fails to hit its target, is revealed in the annual report of the chief of naval ordinance. By means of this device, termed an air-blowing head, it is hoped that many spent torpedoes can be recovered.

A new periscope target has been invented by the bureau during the year which, it is expected, will greatly increase the navy's efficiency in submarine warfare. This target is released from a submerged position, rises slowly to the surface of the water, where it remains for a short time before sinking again.

Experiments have also been carried out for improvement of powders, high explosives, aircraft bombs, and smoke-producing devices, with a view to replacing antiquated paraphernalia in use in the navy.

The Hermit of Appledore

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)

"FANCY!" exclaimed young Mrs. Peterby to her husband. "I have heard the strangest thing. Dick—but, perhaps you'd rather not hear it."

"Guess I can stand it," and Mr. Peterby smiled at their guest, an old college friend of Millie Peterby's, Grace Chame. "Can't scare us, eh, Miss Chame?"

"Well, you know that old camp up on the side of the mountain?" began Mrs. Peterby. "Well, a man is living there—and people say that he is a hermit, but Mrs. Wellminder told me yesterday that he is a well-known author who is living there, writing a book."

"I met him yesterday," Mrs. Peterby continued, "and although he did not see me—I am sure that he did not—I recognized him at once as some one I used to know in Kerryville—I never encouraged him, so our acquaintance was very slight, but he looked so distinguished, Dick," she sighed rapturously.

"That's a very pretty story, my dear, but don't dare try to get acquainted with this beautiful youth."

"Want to go nutting today, Grace?" asked Mrs. Peterby.

"Yes—it will be heaps of fun—I haven't been for years."

"We will have to climb the hill first—it is on the land of the old Porter estate—rather wild up there."

"We might take Don along—he is a big dog and such a protection."

It was after eleven o'clock when the two girls started out with the big dog. Mrs. Peterby's little car carried them part way up the side of the mountain, and they left it at a small cottage.

The two girls kept on the upward inclining road for another mile, and then they stopped breathlessly and sat down to rest outside the gate of the old Porter residence. Don ran hither and thither, stirring up a rabbit or frightening the birds, but after a while he disappeared.

They wandered along the mountain road, picking up nuts from under the broad chestnut trees, and from under a black walnut tree that grew near the Porter place. In the distance they heard Don's glad bark.

"Is he calling for us to come along?" asked Grace Chame.

"I am not sure," admitted Mrs. Peterby, "that sounds just like his family bark, doesn't it? He is your dog, Grace, you ought to know his speech!"

Grace listened intently. "Why," she spoke in surprise, "it sounds just as though he had met some one that he knew."

"Perhaps he is acquainted with the hermit," said Mrs. Peterby carelessly. "What is his name?" asked Grace.

Mrs. Peterby was silent, then she admitted with a silent smile, "To tell the truth, darling, I haven't the least idea!"

They could not hear Don barking now, and in the mountain stillness, there was only the music of the wind in the trees, and the song of a belated bird. Their baskets were filled with nuts, so they resolved to follow the dog, and learn his whereabouts.

They had not gone very far when Miss Chame spoke rapidly. "Wait here, Millie, behind these bushes—look straight ahead—Isn't that darling?"

They could see a spreading knoll where there were scattered birches and oaks—there was a flame of color from every tree—but it was not the scenery that mattered much, excepting that huge log on which lay Don, the great dog, his happy eyes lifted toward the artist who painted him.

"Good dog!" said the big man behind the easel. "Just five minutes longer, Don, old man, and then you may lead me to the loveliest lady in the whole world."

Don barked ecstatically. "An artist?" whispered Mrs. Peterby to Grace Chame. "Why—why—he might be the young man whom you quarreled with, Grace!"

"It is!" exclaimed Grace.

"Are you no longer in love with him?"

Grace was so silent that her hostess guessed the answer. Just at that moment the painter spoke to Don.

"Now, Don, we will go and find our sweetheart!" and just then Mrs. Peterby stepped forward and Grace Chame slowly followed.

"Ah, Don!" called Mrs. Peterby, and as the dog came bounding, she nodded at the handsome young man who hurried forward to explain. "Just tell Miss Chame all about it—Don and I must hurry on ahead!" and so she fled with happy Don to lead the way.

Grace Chame's eyes glowed with a soft fire as the artist stopped beside her. "I did not know you were here until Don came bounding upon me," he explained. "I have been making a good sketch of him. This is a wonderful country."

"I am spending a month with my old classmate," murmured Grace blushing beneath his ardent eyes. "Mrs. Dick Peterby. Do you know them?"

"Yes, indeed—it was through Dick that I heard about this mountain, and came a-running! I hope you will let me come and see you—sometimes, Grace."

What Grace told him made him the happiest man in the world at that particular moment, and all reports say that he is the happiest man in the world now, long after they are married.

COLONIAL TEA GIVEN BY D. A. R. AT KING HOME

Want Camp Charlotte, Made
Famous by Lord Dunmore
—Historic Spot Marked.

Forty members and prospective members of the Daughters of the American Revolution were entertained at a Colonial tea given by Mrs. Orion King and Mrs. Charles Gerhardt at the home of the former, 148 West High street, Monday, February 21.

The guests of honor were the prospective members and Mrs. G. H. Hitchcock, of Washington C. H., and Mrs. Orson Dryer, regent of the Columbus chapter. Mrs. Dryer, who was Governor Donahey's appointee to represent the state of Ohio at the Sesqui-Centennial, gave an address on "Old High Street Philadelphia, in 1776." She described very graphically the reproduction of Old High Street at the sesqui-centennial, telling many stories of the celebrities who made the street famous in Revolutionary times. Mrs. Dryer also told us that she regretted very much that the most historical spot in Pickaway county has never been marked in any way. She referred to Camp Charlotte, situated near Leisville, where Lord Dunmore made his famous treaty with the Indians and expressed the hope that this chapter might be instrumental in having this historical spot fittingly marked.

The members adjourned to another room where a short business session was held. Three new members were present at this meeting; Mrs. G. P. Hunsicker, of Williamsport and Mrs. Nannie Hamilton and daughter, Miss Marie, of this city.

Tea was served in the dining room. In the center of the table were miniature replicas of George and Martha Washington with cherries and hatchets surrounding them. Regent Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, presided at the tea table and a number of the members of the chapter served the guests.

The next meeting will be held March 21, at the home of Mrs. Copeland in Williamsport.

GREAT BRITAIN SENDS CRUISER TO NICARAGUA

Battle Ship Columbo Is Now Riding the Waves in Caribbean Sea.

Great Britain has decided to send a cruiser to Nicaragua and the admiralty informed the United Press that his Colombo was due there Friday. The vessel was believed to have left the British West Indies naval station Tuesday.

The Colombo, the foreign office said would not act as a place of refuge for British nationals in the event of further fighting.

The Colombo is a new cruiser completed in June, 1919, displacement 4,190 tons and complement of 425 to 462 men, according to Jane's fighting ships. She carries five six-inch guns, two three-inch guns, four three-pounders, two two-pounders, two machine guns and eight Lewis guns. The Colombo's eight 21-inch torpedo tubes are mounted above the water line. The vessel is of the Cardiff class of the emergency war program ships, ordered in April, 1915.

Stolen Ruby Run Down in Heel of Woman's Slipper

Berlin.—Only a few weeks ago the famous Conde diamond was found concealed in an apple in a Paris hotel when a maid bit into the fruit, and now a valuable ruby stolen more than a year ago, has been traced by the police to a cavity in the heel of a dancing slipper.

In November, 1925, a ring, set with this square-cut ruby, was stolen in broad daylight from the principal jewelry shop of Berlin's largest suburb, Schöneberg. The other day a detective noticed a costly ruby ring on the hand of a woman he knew to be the sweetheart of a notorious burglar.

Two detectives hurried to the woman's apartment and searched it. But the ring was not found. Certain of his clew, however, the detective returned next day with a policeman and renewed the search. After four hours he finally came upon the jewel in the hollow heel of a graceful satin slipper.

HARTMAN THEATER.

At the Hartman theater, Columbus, next Monday night and the balance of the week, Sam H. Harris will present his musical comedy riot The Marx Brothers in "The Cocoanuts." Heretofore thru the medium of "The Music Box Revue," Mr. Harris has given an elaborate entertainment of the traditional type, but this year he has a story of sufficient volume to be dignified by the name of plot, and then has added his dances, sketches and musical numbers, all of which are indigenous to the narrative. He has taken for his locale Florida during the present land boom and he has thru the fertile pen of George S. Kaufman a hilarious story to which Irving Berlin has added and lyrics and characteristic numbers. Here is entertainment that surpasses the "Revue," not excepting the "Music Box Revue" which "The Cocoanuts" has supplanted in Irving Berlin's affections. Once again we have beauty and art combined in the expert staging of a large working chorus, in the gorgeous ensembles costumed to fill the eye and to the varied talents of an unusually expert company of comedians, singers and dancers. To begin with there are the Marx Brothers, who made themselves such distinct favorites thru their long success "I'll Say She Is." Into a most up-to-date story of Florida and its land boom, the author has placed these comedians, suiting the picture and situation to their style of talents. Holding the story together has its own difficulties where the Marx Brothers are concerned. Nevertheless, the author has managed to give some continuity to his plot.

Prominent in the large cast are Phyllis Cleveland, Jack Barker, Janet Velie, The De Marcos, the Three Brox Sisters, Basil Ruysdeal, Margaret Du mont, Henry Whittemore, the Breen Brothers, the Paloma string orchestra a jazz band and the liveliest, peppiest loveliest and most handsomely gowned chorus presented on the stage in many a day. All in all a costly production and the outstanding musical success of the past season on Broadway.

Special attention paid to out of town orders. Send them now. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

THE JURY'S VERDICT

IS $50,000.
FIFTY thousand dollars! Your home, your savings all must go to satisfy it—and all you can accumulate until the judgment is satisfied,

Your mind flashes back over the accident—a slippery street, a dark, rainy night; you didn't see the man until your headlights showed him a few feet away; and you jammed on the brakes and swerved your car—but too late.

It might happen to you. Such accidents occur constantly. And $50,000 verdicts today are not uncommon.

Protect yourself with adequate liability and property damage insurance. A policy with $25,000—$50,000 limits costs only little more than your $5,000, $10,000 policy.
